Research, Training & Community Highlights

March - May 2026

AN ACTION-PACKED FEW MONTHS

From March to May 2026, NextAIRE brought researchers and organisations together through secondments, workshops and new learning resources. Three researchers began individual secondments, six online workshops were delivered, and the project welcomed two new Letters of Support. The E-Learning Platform also started to take shape, while workshop recordings and materials began to be shared through the NextAIRE YouTube channel.

LEARNING ACROSS ORGANISATIONS

During this period, three researchers completed the first part of their individual secondments. Each will return later in the project for the remaining second part.

TRAINING AND COLLABORATION ON LOW-COST AIR-QUALITY SENSORS

22 MARCH - 5 APRIL 2026 | UNIVERSITY OF SARAJEVO → SMART SENSE, ZAGREB

Amar Karadža worked with the Smart Sense team on low-cost IoT air-quality sensors, calibration challenges and a new method for comparing sensor performance. The experience will support his PhD research and future teaching.
